Munck Wilson Mandala Litigation Team Secures $10 Million Settlement for Homeowners from Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals

October 19, 2022 | (Time to read: 2 minutes)

A Munck Wilson Mandala litigation team led by Austin partners Rob Linkin and David Rowe has secured a $10 million settlement on behalf of homeowners who filed a class action in Matson v. NIBCO. The settlement was approved last year by the Western District of Texas and appealed by a lone appellant in Jose Garcia v. Matson v. NIBCO in the Fifth Circuit. In a per curiam opinion released Oct. 12, 2022, the Fifth Circuit rejected the lone objection and cleared the way for a settlement that provides $7.65 million to homeowners whose houses were plumbed with a flexible, cross-linked polyethylene material known as PEX pipe and fittings that were manufactured by NIBCO, Inc. NIBCO also agreed to separately pay $2,330,000 in attorneys' fees so the homeowners will not have to pay legal fees from their settlement fund.

The case was brought on behalf of homeowners in the San Antonio metropolitan area and the Birmingham Alabama metropolitan area who owned homes built by D.R. Horton. The homes contained NIBCO PEX Pipe, a product reported to have manufacturing defects that led to massive leaks.

Pursuant to the approved settlement, class members who previously have suffered from leaks will be entitled to cash payments which will compensate them for past damages, and class members who have had multiple leaks will be entitled to payments for the re-piping for their home. The settlement is a huge win for the class members, who were previously excluded from a settlement approved a few years back in the Cole v. NIBCO litigation which was pending in the district of New Jersey. On a pro-rata basis, the proposed settlement is approximately nine times larger than the settlement in Cole.

Plaintiffs are represented by MWM partners Linkin and Rowe, Austin Tighe of Nix Patterson, LLP, and Kirby Farris of Farris, Riley & Pitt, LLP. NIBCO is represented by Gordon Cooney and Franco Corrado of Morgan Lewis, LLP. The objector is represented by George Fleming of Fleming, Nolan, & Jez, LLP.
